

What's it like to transition from PhD student to the biotech/pharma industry

Dr. Florian Semmelmann

Are you wondering what it's like to finish your PhD and transition directly to the biotech/pharma industry?

Florian studied biochemistry at the University of Regensburg and got his PhD at the Institute of Biophysics and Physical Biochemistry with Prof. Dr. Reinhard Sterner and transitioned directly to a group lead position within a big pharmaceutical company. He will share his experience and what he thinks is important to get started in the industry.
