Driving Regulatory Success

Dr. Sam Ringle M.D.R.A.

Dr. Sam Ringle earned his PhD in Biochemistry from the University of Regensburg and later completed a Master's in Drug Regulatory Affairs at the University of Bonn. His professional journey led him through HELM AG, CSL Behring, BioNTech, and Miltenyi Biomedicine, where he contributed to the development and regulatory advancement of complex biologics and advanced therapy medicinal products (ATMPs).

In 2025, he founded Ringle Regulatory Services, an independent consultancy that provides strategic regulatory guidance for innovative biotech programs and academic spin-offs.

In his talk, Dr. Ringle will introduce Regulatory Affairs, a discipline connecting scientific research, legal frameworks, manufacturing, and patient access. He will highlight how regulatory professionals shape drug development and share insights into the diverse career paths available to scientists transitioning from academia to industry.
